Planning a day excursion? There are many galleries in the Fortitude Valley creative precinct we can suggest to make the most of your visit.

The exhibition was so cool and had so many different elements and ways of making that I hadn't thought of before. I really enjoyed the workshop and how it connected back to the artists. It helped me make better connections with responding and making.

That artist video tutorial by Agus Wijaya is absolute gold! I'm having the hardest time finding digital based contemporary artist resources right now. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

GETTING HERE

The 199, 196, and 195 buses stop directly outside the Judith Wright Arts Centre. Coach drop-off and pick-up are available. The IMA is just a five-minute walk from Fortitude Valley train station.

I know more about careers and pathways relative to the arts and how vast they can be. It was really fun—thank you!
